TO THE HEIGHTS OF HEAVEN
At the Dormition, Mary’s body is borne into heaven so that her physical presence before God might continue to be a cause of the enlivening of the Holy Spirit in all those on earth seeking salvation.
Mary’s being “proclaims the greatness of the Lord,” and her very body bears the godly greatness that she proclaims. The fact that God assumes Mary bodily into heaven stands as a living indication to us of the all-encompassing fullness of salvation. God’s grace transforms and perfects every aspect of our human life. God’s mercy is utterly comprehensive, reaching out to elevate and sanctify even our fallen bodies.
Mary proclaims in her Magnificat that God “has looked upon his handmaid’s lowliness.” What is apparent to “look upon” is the seeming lowliness of Mary’s body as well as her humble state in life. All ages continue to call Mary blessed in the same way that Mary does: by “looking upon” Mary’s lowly body that has been lifted up to the very heights of heaven to signify the unending, transcending force of divine grace.

Humble Prayer
In praying, do not babble like pagans, who think that they will be heard because of their many words. (Matthew 6:7)
Many words do not necessarily make good prayer. God hears your prayer not because of countless words but because of God’s immense love. This truth is suggested by Jesus just before he teaches his disciples the Lord’s Prayer.
Jesus is trying to open our hearts to recognize and value the spirit of prayer. He is indirectly saying, don’t try to get heaven’s attention by a lot of wordy prayers. As a child seeks the comfort of a loving parent, let your needs be known. Heaven leans down and listens to the prayer of a humble spirit. The One to whom you pray is holy; remember the hallowedness of God’s name. Pray that the reign of God may surround you during your sojourn on earth. Yearn to do God’s will. Lovingly anticipate your daily bread. Learn forgiveness. Learn to do good and not evil. Then your heart will be filled with the spirit of prayer.

STRENGTH IN WEAKNESS
We don’t have to face life’s difficulties by ourselves. When we are confused, the Holy Spirit leads us with divine guidance. When we are weak, the Holy Spirit upholds us with divine strength. These are all signs of God’s compassionate presence with us. We’re not in control of our lives as much as we might like to be. Things don’t always turn out as we hope. We fail in some areas where we try so hard to succeed. These are painful situations that don’t sit well with our egos. And yet, there is a great blessing here. If we were always successful by ourselves, we wouldn’t be open to the joy of our partnership with God. It’s our weakness that opens us up to God’s power and love.

SCRIPTURE PRAYER - May the Word of God dwell in our hearts and guide the actions of our lives.

JESUS PRAYER – Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner
